

Todd Johnson

COMEDIAN

Todd has been performing stand up now for over 10 years. Coming from a small farming town in Idaho, which is a far place from something funny, Todd's hilarious stories and quick wit keeps the audience wondering "Where did this boy come from!" A few of Todd's credits: opened for Weird Al Yankovik, and Tommy Chong; a couple of his corporate credits are Coca Cola, Pepsi, and Dollar Rent a Car, along with College shows and benefits for The March of Dimes.

Todd knows how to attract a crowd. The way he grabs the attention of everyone in a room through his visual pictures and clever twists is a must see. He will keep you laughing even after his show, and wanting more. Todd can appeal to both the professional side of comedy, as well as the general crowd. He has performed at various clubs all over the country. Todd may be from a small town in Idaho, but pay attention to this guy, you won't forget it or regret it!
