

TIM MARS

COMEDIAN

Tim Mars grew up in Chicago, IL and started joining theater productions as early as grade school. He spent his high school years in Lexington, KY where he played in several bands. His love for music ultimately became an integral part of his stand-up act.

After doing comedy for only a year Tim became a professional, touring the country and earning a living. His high energy stage act made him a staple in the Hollywood club circuit giving him the opportunity to open for comics such as Adam Sandler, Dane Cook, Jonah Hill, Dave Attel, Damon Wayans and Joe Rogan.

He regularly headlines the Jon Lovitz Comedy Club in Universal Studios. The Hollywood Improv is also regular performance stage for Tim.

Tim appeared as a comedian on VH1's "Tough Love" and as a paparazzi photographer in a funny contestant challenge on season two of "Paris Hilton's My New BFF" on MTV.

His new CD "Hello, it's the Martian" is available online everywhere.
