

RICK PULIDO

COMEDIAN-ACTOR-CANVAS ARTIST

Energetic, prolific and profound, describes Rick's seemingly naive observations. He retorts on social, political, economic and personal matters in a simple-minded delivery focused on one goal... to get you laughing. He's been noted to use physiological undertones to sneak up on an audience and plays his Spanish & Texas accents like bait, catching his prey off guard. Rick's appeared on Comedy Central, HBO. Que Locos, PBS; and he has written for the Tonight Show with Jay Leno.

Rick looks at life and turns it upside down like the lens on a camera and people laugh. His words are amplified with inflections, sound effects and animated body and facial contractions. As a great American trapped in a Mexican body, he'll tear you with laughter through the confusion of his Texas and Mexican accents.

Rick Pulido has the honesty of Richard Pryor, the art of Bill Cosby and the tenacity of George Carlin. If you ONLY see one comedy show this year-don't miss this one.
