

JENNIFER RICH

COMEDIAN-WRITER-ACTOR

Jennifer won Funniest New Female Comic in 1991 at Hilarities in Florida. She moved to Los Angeles in December of 1992 with a one hundred dollar bill and $22.00 in rolled coins. Jennifer doesn't live on the edge, she IS the edge. In LA, she produced "Comedy Girlfriends", an all female show which got great reviews in Drama-Logue. She is now a Paid Regular at The Comedy Store and has toured the North West, Nevada and Florida. Jennifer starred in the Children's Film, "The Bug Outbreak of 2004" and continued on to be a Finalist in the 2004 San Diego Comedy Festival.

Jennifer's recent successes include a National Voice-Over for GoApply.com, an appearance as a guest Comic on All Comedy Radio's "The Comedy Island", also running nationwide, and the shooting of "The Closet Fairy", a comedy short which she wrote, produced and co-starred in. She also donated two shows to The California Comedy Classic, a benefit for underprivileged athletes at East LA College.
