COMEDIAN-RECOVERING NERD

Andy Wood's life is probably best summed up by a quote he remembers hearing come out of the mouth of the trophy-stepmother of a friend of his back in fourth grade: "That boy thinks too much." Evidently he doesn't think enough about practical things, though, which is why his engineering career has gone by the wayside in favor of comedy.

An alumnus of the Bumbershoot Arts Festival and the Portland Amateur Comedy Competition, Andy was recently selected to participate in the 2008 Seattle International Comedy Competition. He is also one of the founders of the Bridgetown Comedy Festival, whose inaugural year in 2008 featured over 60 comedians from around the country. Andy will take you on a comical journey through his neuroses and musings on being an over-educated, under-employed 30-something recovering nerd.
